

Medical Disclaimer

Do not use Survon's products/services in the event of an emergency or for emergency care. Always call 911 or your local emergency service immediately if you think you may have a medical emergency.

Survon's products/services connect you with leading doctors, nurses, trusted health information, and your own personalized information all designed to help you feel good and live a happier, healthier life.

Survon's products/services are for educational and informational purposes only and no doctor-patient relationship is established. Content such as text, graphics, images, and other materials on Survon, Inc (Survon) websites, apps and services, posted on, created for, or compiled by Survon is not intended or designed to replace your doctor's independent judgment about any symptom, condition, or the appropriateness or risks of a procedure or treatment for a given person.

Our content is not a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment, and you should:

- Seek the advice of your doctor or other qualified health care provider whenever you have a personal question about a medical condition or symptom or wherever you may need medical care.
- Never delay seeking advice or disregard professional medical advice because of something that you read or see on Survon.

Survon's services can be a great resource during your doctor visits but are not a substitute for in person doctor visits, your primary care doctor or your primary care doctor's independent judgment about any symptom, condition, or the appropriateness or risks of a procedure or treatment for a given person.
